

On the road, in the right direction

Recently David Boyce of the NZ Trucking Association confirmed Duns Accountants and Business Advisers as a new Corporate Member. With the vision of the association in mind, David sees this association with Duns as a positive step for members.

Always looking for service offerings, David believes Duns is a perfect resource to help make members businesses' a whole lot easier to manage, and to maximise their potential.

A hard road.

"Do you spend 50+ hours a week on the road? 10+ hours a week unloading and reloading? 6+ hours a week with rig maintenance? That's already 60+ hours a week with out even touching the paperwork," Aaron Cassidy, Client Manager for Duns talking about workloads, "not to mention fitting in valuable family time somewhere. And how does your back office look like...a bit of a mess?"

It can be a very hard road. At Duns they pride themselves on getting to know what you really want. What you're thinking. With collaboration, they can build a knowledge foundation that will enable them to provide a path that will make your business life better.

With a comprehensive portfolio of specialist services to hand, you can trust and rely on their commitment to always have your interests as a small to medium sized operator at heart.

Moving on.

As a business operator, there's just a few questions you need to ask yourself. 'Where do you want to be, and how can you make it happen?'

Duns are a professional team of business consultants and chartered accountants that are always putting these questions to their clients. It's a very basic starting point, but it is the only way to get to grips with the workings of your business and lifestyle expectations at grass roots level.

Based in Christchurch with clients nationwide, Duns service portfolio is quite comprehensive - from financial and accountancy, right through to business governance, across a wide range of businesses, industries, and individual clientele.

Your shiny rims and stacks might spin your wheels – but tax matters and realising potential in business does it for Duns. That's why their stake in the ground is 'Duns means business'.

If you wish to find out how they can help you, contact Warwick Watts or Aaron Cassidy on 03 365 0768, or visit duns.co.nz

Duns can provide

- solutions to simplify all your tax matters with the IRD including GST, Income Tax, and PAYE.
- attention to any taxation planning and business restructuring to minimize your tax to pay each year.
- understanding and ensuring confidence that future transport contracts make financial sense before signing.
- an effective partnership in the planning of your business. Building goals that will move you forward, maximising opportunities as they arise.
- positive cash flow management – the lifeblood of your business.
- ensuring every kg carried, every km travelled delivers more $'s to your back pocket.

Duns means business